Comments;

1. Singles are seen as albums with a track count of 1
2. Production Units can consist of one or more artists, meaning they include solo acts, bands, and collaborations
3. Each song has one album; rereleases and the like are counted as new versions/instances of the song
4. Devices: I personally listen to different types of music on different devices because its in a different setting; I wanted to create a feature that could add this context
